Medan is the capital of North Sumatra Province, situated at the western tip of Indonesia. It serves as the economic and business hub of the region and boasts a rich history, culture, and natural resources.

The city of Medan is known for its diverse cultural influences, including Malay, Chinese, Batak, and other Indonesian and international cultures. This diversity is evident in various aspects of daily life, such as customs, language, clothing, food, and art.

Lake Toba, located in North Sumatra Province, is a volcanic lake spanning 100 kilometers in length and 30 kilometers in width. It is the largest lake in Indonesia and Southeast Asia, and it features a volcanic island called Samosir Island at its center.

Covering an area of 1,130 square kilometers, Lake Toba reaches a depth of 505 meters. Tourists often continue their journey to Lake Toba after visiting Berastagi, which is approximately 67 kilometers away and takes around 2.5 hours to reach.

Berastagi is famous for its passion fruit. The main attractions of the town are the two active volcanoes; Mount Sibayak, with its hot springs, and Mount Sinabung.
